Battle Cry 150

Replacement Confederate Flags

Contents:

There are three sheets of different flags:

- Sheet 1: Three different variations of the Confederate National flag. The Confederate national flag experienced several other changes early in the war as states were added to the new country.

- Sheet 2: Both generic Confederate and unit-specific cavalry guidons and flags.

- Sheet 3: Flags for several different generals and headquarters.
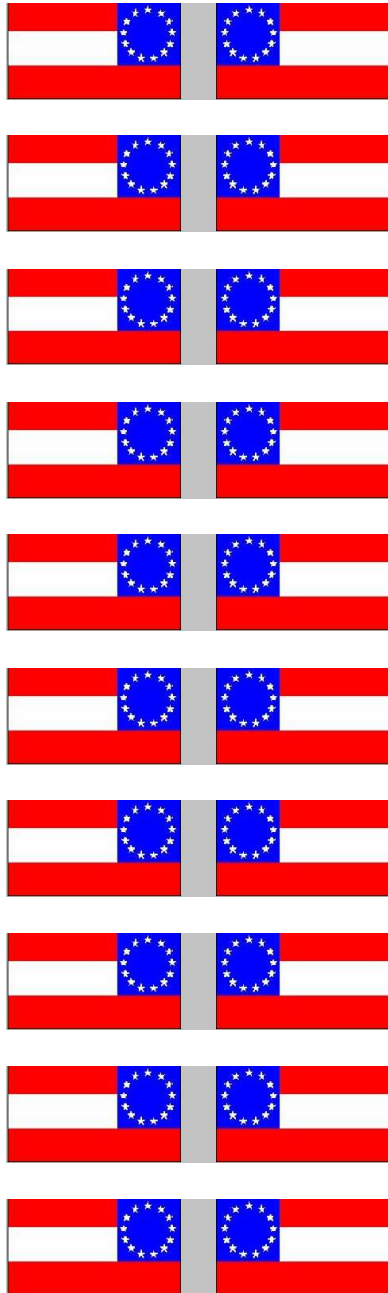

Instructions for use:

1. Print the flags.

2. Cut them out using a sharp craft knife, like an X-Acto knife with a #11 blade.

3. Glue the flags to the figures. I used Elmer's Craft Bond Tacky Glue and it worked great. Tacky Glue is just thickened white glue, so white glue should work well also. I found that aligning and gluing the back ends of the flag first, and then snugging the flag around the flagpole seemed to work best.

4. If you want to get fancy, color the exposed edges of the flags with a Sharpie® or other marker.

5. Once the glue is dry, you can fold or wrinkle the flags to make them "wave."

6. Coat the flags with either a 50-50 mix of white glue and water, or a little artist's medium (gloss or matte). This will stiffen the flags a bit and also protect them from wet fingers.

7. If you ever want to remove the flags, a quick soak in a little plain water will dissolve either white or tacky glue. They can then be slid off the flagpoles.

Thanks to Brady Stevens for the original idea and for some of the flags. Brady's own replacement flags can be found on the original Battle Cry website, http://www.thewargamer.com/BattleCry/min/colors.html, and are well worth checking out.
